LAKE JOVITA GOLF AND COUNTRY CLUB TO HOST
EIGHTH ANNUAL EVERYDAY BLESSINGS TOURNAMENT

www.everybless.org

Lake Jovita Golf and Country Club will host the Eighth Annual Everyday Blessings Golf Tournament on Saturday, September 24. Registration begins at 10 a.m., with a shotgun start at noon.

All proceeds benefit Everyday Blessings of Thonotosassa, which places and cares for abused, neglected and abandoned children in the foster care system. Its focus is finding safe, stable and permanent homes for the children.

“The tournament’s goal is to raise the Everyday Blessings operating budget for the year,” says Don Schoch, who recruits volunteers to assist at the event. “That includes care for 40 to 45 children – food and lodging, instruction, health care and administrative costs.”

In addition to golf fees, the $200 per person donation includes cart, use of practice facilities, box lunch, buffet dinner and prizes. Luxury cars will be available for hole-in-one prizes.

Golfers can also compete in closest to the pin, longest drive and skins contests. The evening's events will include the awards presentation and lives and silent auctions.

The golfers will play on both of Lake Jovita's championship courses, north and south. The event is expected to sell out.

"This is a special tournament for us," says Lake Jovita Head Golf Professional Jim Hafner. "Our members have taken a great interest in it. Many of them volunteer to help."

This is the sixth consecutive year the tournament has come to Lake Jovita. "Each year I get compliments on the beautiful condition of the courses and how helpful Lake Jovita's staff members are," says Schoch. "The courses have been superb. It has become a prestigious tournament."

Rooms-to-Go is the presenting sponsor. "The CEO, Steve Buckley, has taken a person interest," says Schoch. "That is a big factor in the tournament's success."
